AYANTEE 1952

THE AGRICULTURAL AND TECHNICAL COLLEGE OF
NORTH CAROLINA
Greensboro, North Carolina

DEDICATION

GOVERNOR W. KERR SCOTT

A star in the crown of the state of North Carolina . . . thus, let his deeds be known. Seldom in the history of any state has a governor been so well identified with the best interests and future welfare of the innumerable groups over whom he exerts his guiding influence. Because of his efforts to understand the necessity of an equal educational system and his efforts to promote it throughout the state . . . because of his efforts to build better roads for traveling throughout the state . . . because of his efforts to promote the general welfare of the citizens of the state, we dedicate this, our 1952 annual, to His Excellency, W. Kerr Scott, Governor of the State of North Carolina.

TO OUR PRESIDENT

DR. F. D. BLUFORD

More than twenty-five years ago, Dr. Ferdinand D. Bluford dedicated his life to the service of this institution of higher learning. The cumulative length of his tenure and devotion as president of the Agricultural and Technical College and the advances made by the college during this period are truly testimonies of his greatness. The enormous construction which is now under way is a visible tribute to the predominant character of Dr. Bluford. As the immortal William Shakespeare once said, "Some men are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." Dr. Bluford is living evidence of the median of this quotation; Dr. Bluford has achieved greatness.

The story that will unfold in this book is one of progress, and it is only fitting that its foremost character should be acclaimed here, for Dr. Bluford is not only an educator, but a leader of remarkable ability. He is a son of this institution who has been endowed with the dream of its founding fathers. Moreover, he possesses a determined desire to play a part in the culmination of that dream. His success is recorded in the hearts of all students, alumni, and friends of the college. To the love and accord that is already his, the staff of this 1952 AYANTEE YEARBOOK humbly and inadequately adds its tribute.

AERIAL VIEW OF NEW MEN'S DORMITORY

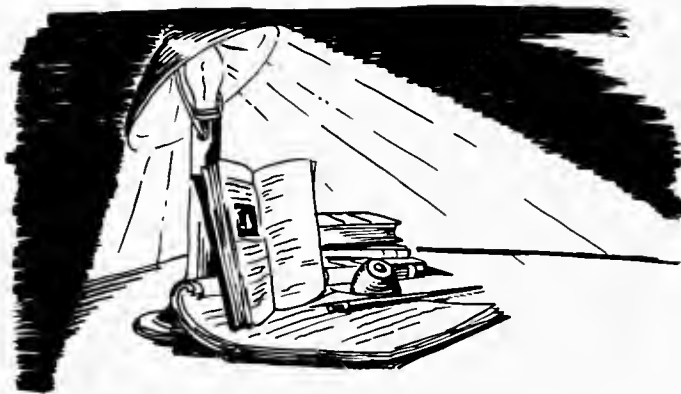

One of the largest dormitories in the South, it has 505 rooms with a total capacity of 1,010 students. Its fine appointments make it a comfortable home for a substantial part of the male enrollment at A. & T. The new Trades Building appears in the background.

FOREWORD

We present for your enjoyment this book of memories, the 1951-52 AYANTEE.

It is our hope that this edition of the AYANTEE will help you to remember all of the little things which go to make up life here at the Agricultural and Technical College. We have tried to show you as you see yourselves—as you dash to classes, play on the athletic field, participate in the school activities, or work with enthusiasm on social events.

Stones and mortar do not make an institution of learning; it is the older faces that have lingered for years to guide and inspire students, and how the new faces have come quietly and dedicated themselves to the maintenance of the high principles of a college that make it worthy of what we boast.

Of course, all of us will remember special events and friendships not pictured in these pages, but in the years ahead we hope that you may glance through this annual and say with significance, "This is A. and T. as I knew it in 1952."

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche with President F. D. Bluford and Dean W. T. Gibbs at 1951 Commencement Exercises.

Dr. Ralph Johnson Bunche, Director, Department of Trusteeship, United Nations, addressed some 6,000 persons, 465 of whom were receiving various degrees and certificates in the Commencement Exercises of the school year 1950-51.

Dr. Bunche, A.B., University of California, A.M., Ph.D., Harvard University, even though of humble birth, possessing an insatiable thirst for knowledge, and consequently made his own way through the University of California, winning the Phi Beta Kappa Key. He attended Harvard University, earning the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy with distinction. Continuing his formal education, Dr. Bunche then engaged in further study in some of the leading universities abroad. For several years, he was an inspiring teacher of Political Science at Howard University, and actively engaged in the study of inter-racial problems of this country.

During World War II, when the State Department needed a man who understood the problems of minority groups, Dr. Bunche was the appointed mediator to Palestine where the same high intelligence, faithfulness and courage which served him in such good stead previously, once again characterized his world-renowned performance.

Consequently, when Dr. Ralph Bunche addressed these 6,000 persons at commencement exercises, each attentive listener could visualize the indomitable character of this world-traveler, his great contribution to the solution of the problems of human relations, and his leadership in the effective use of arbitration as an instrument for settling the differences between races and nations, his most significant contribution to world peace. Most of all, the fact that Dr. Bunche has walked with and close y associated with the leaders in government throughout the world, he has not lost the common touch.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

SAMPSON BUE
President of the Student Council

It is only natural that some members of our class would have distinguished themselves in achievement and service to the institution and fellow-students. We picture below our nominations for the high position of "Outstanding Seniors." Their contributions to the welfare and happiness of the student body have been many, but their honors have been few. We are happy to set them aside as those most deserving.

TO THE SENIOR CLASS

The Freshman Class of 1948 (the Senior Class of 1952) has based its four years' work on three sayings of Theodore Roosevelt:

"All daring and courage, all iron endurance of misfortune, make for a finer, noble type of manhood."

"Courage, hard work, self-mastery, and intelligent effort are all essential to a successful life."

"Only those are fit to live who do not fear to die, and none are fit to live who have shrunk from the joy of life and the duty of life."

The work has been hard and the competition keen. For four years you have made endless sacrifices in order that you would realize this day. Already you see the results of hard work. The real payoff will come to those of you who will be better able to face the hardships of life, and who will receive a lasting joy out of serving mankind as a trustee for God and Humanity.

May you remain loyal, sincere and efficient, and may you carry with you into the waiting world a proven message and much needed leadership.

SCABBARD AND BLADE NATIONAL SOCIETY

The National Society of the Scabbard and Blade was founded in 1905 at the University of Wisconsin. The purpose of the society is to promote unity and close relationship, to encourage and foster the essential qualities of good and efficient army officers.

Through the ardent support of Major Thomas H. Wright, who made possible the organization of the first chapter of the society, here on our campus May 19, 1951, the organization moves forward with the following brothers participating actively. From left to right, first row: Willie Wilson, 2nd Lt.; Charles Mayo, Marshall Collins, Captain; William Rice, Vance Hall. Second row: Norman Heilig, R. ## THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Through the splendid direction of the Student Council, student activities at A. and T. have continued to multiply and improve. This section, therefore, aims to present a cross section of life on the campus, including some of the highlights which all of us will, undoubtedly remember and cherish for years to come. At the same time it gives a record of the outstanding events of the year and presents a panoramic view of the actions that constitute and exemplify the pattern of life at the Agricultural and Technical College.

Student activities have grown steadily in scope and number since the early history of the college until there are now over twenty-five prominent organizations on the campus.

This division of clubs and activities is presented as a commendation to those students who made an effort to attain a broader outlook and a more complete education through campus activities. Moreover, this is a record of college life outside the classrooms during 1951-52.

MUSIC

PROFESSOR HOWARD T. PEARSALL

The Department of Music has had its share of the year's activities. Glee Club rehearsals, piano and voice students practicing their exercises, and music appreciation classes listening to records, were only a few of the activities that kept the building "buzzing."

Professor Howard T. Pearsall, Chairman of the Department of Music, assisted by Miss Rosemond J. Satterwhite led the College choir to stardom, according to the many critics throughout the nation.

Choral director giving the downbeat as the choir goes into a musical frenzy at its annual Christmas Carol Service.

MUSIC

WALTER F. CARLSON

Walter F. Carlson, director of the symphony and college band, was always on hand to play for services.

Starting off the year as a marching band, the band was an indispensable part of the football season. The one-hundred-and-sixteen piece organization entertained the fans with good fight music and diversified half-time antics. Appearing at the home games and most out-of-town games, the Band was put through its routines by Mr. W. Penn, Assistant band director.

RICHARD B. HARRISON PLAYERS

"Song of My Heart" was the first production of the Richard B. Harrison Players for the 1951-52 school year. Playing before capacity audiences in a two-day stand, it was a fine tribute to our dramatics director, Prof. Sylvester F. Clarke. Those persons who portrayed the leading characters of the play, Odessa Burris and Millard C. Mitchell, turned in superb performances in addition to the marvelous work of the supporting cast. The student body contemplates an entertaining season of productions of the same high caliber as that exhibited by "Song of My Heart."

THE GREEKS

From Alpha to Omega, the Greek organizations at the Agricultural and Technical College have joined in the progress of the college in the past year by increasing their memberships and admitting new pledges. The Greeks on the campus have contributed, not only to the college's social progress, but also to the extra-curricular activities of the student body. Progress at The Agricultural and Technical College is a group project, and the Greeks are bearing their share of the load, in leadership, intra-mural sports, and college-wide activities.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA SORORITY

pink & green

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, the first of the sororities to be organized at A. and T., was set up here in 1932. The chapter has sought to encourage high scholastic standards and to improve the social status of the race. They are from left to right, kneeling: Marjorie Holmes, La Forest Bryant, Ernestine Cumber, Queenie Lambert, Willette Gavin, Dorothy McNeil, Katye Grahame, Assist. Dean of Pledges. Second row: Nena Faulcon, Sara Smith, Magalene Lee, Pearl Harrell, Louise Dodd, Anne Brooks, Sgt.-at-Arms. Third row: Berlena Campbell, Anti-Basileus; Marteen Broadnax, Lannie McArthur, Velma Smith, Margaret Trisvan and Virginia Scales. Standing: Effie Flowers, Gramateus; Ethel Johnson, Basileus; Velma Speight, Epsitoleus and Gwendolyn Guy, Tamiochus.

MISS A. & T. COLLEGE

MISS YVONNE WOOTEN

Dignity, poise, and charm go to contribute to a good description of the first lady of Aggie-Land, Miss Yvonne Wooten. This lovely young lady, who hails from Maysville, N. C., reigns over our beautiful campus and its subjects, who number 3,000 or more. She is a major in commercial education and is a member of the Iota Phi Lambda Sorority.

Worshiped by her many subjects, she has carried herself in a manner which makes all loyal Aggies look up to her and exclaim, saying, "There is our Queen, The Supreme Lady of Aggie-Land."

The day was October 20, 1951. The place, Greensboro Memorial Stadium. The occasion, the annual homecoming festivities.

Elaborate plans for this gala affair had begun weeks in advance. Floats of divergent designs were constructed; posters were disseminated over the entire campus; welcome mats were laid out; the entire student body tensely awaited the colorful event.

On to the stadium!! The band sounded out the last notes of the "Star-Spangled Banner;" the whistle blew; the kickoff; and one of the greatest homecoming games ever witnessed by this record crowd of some 20,000 fans was under way.

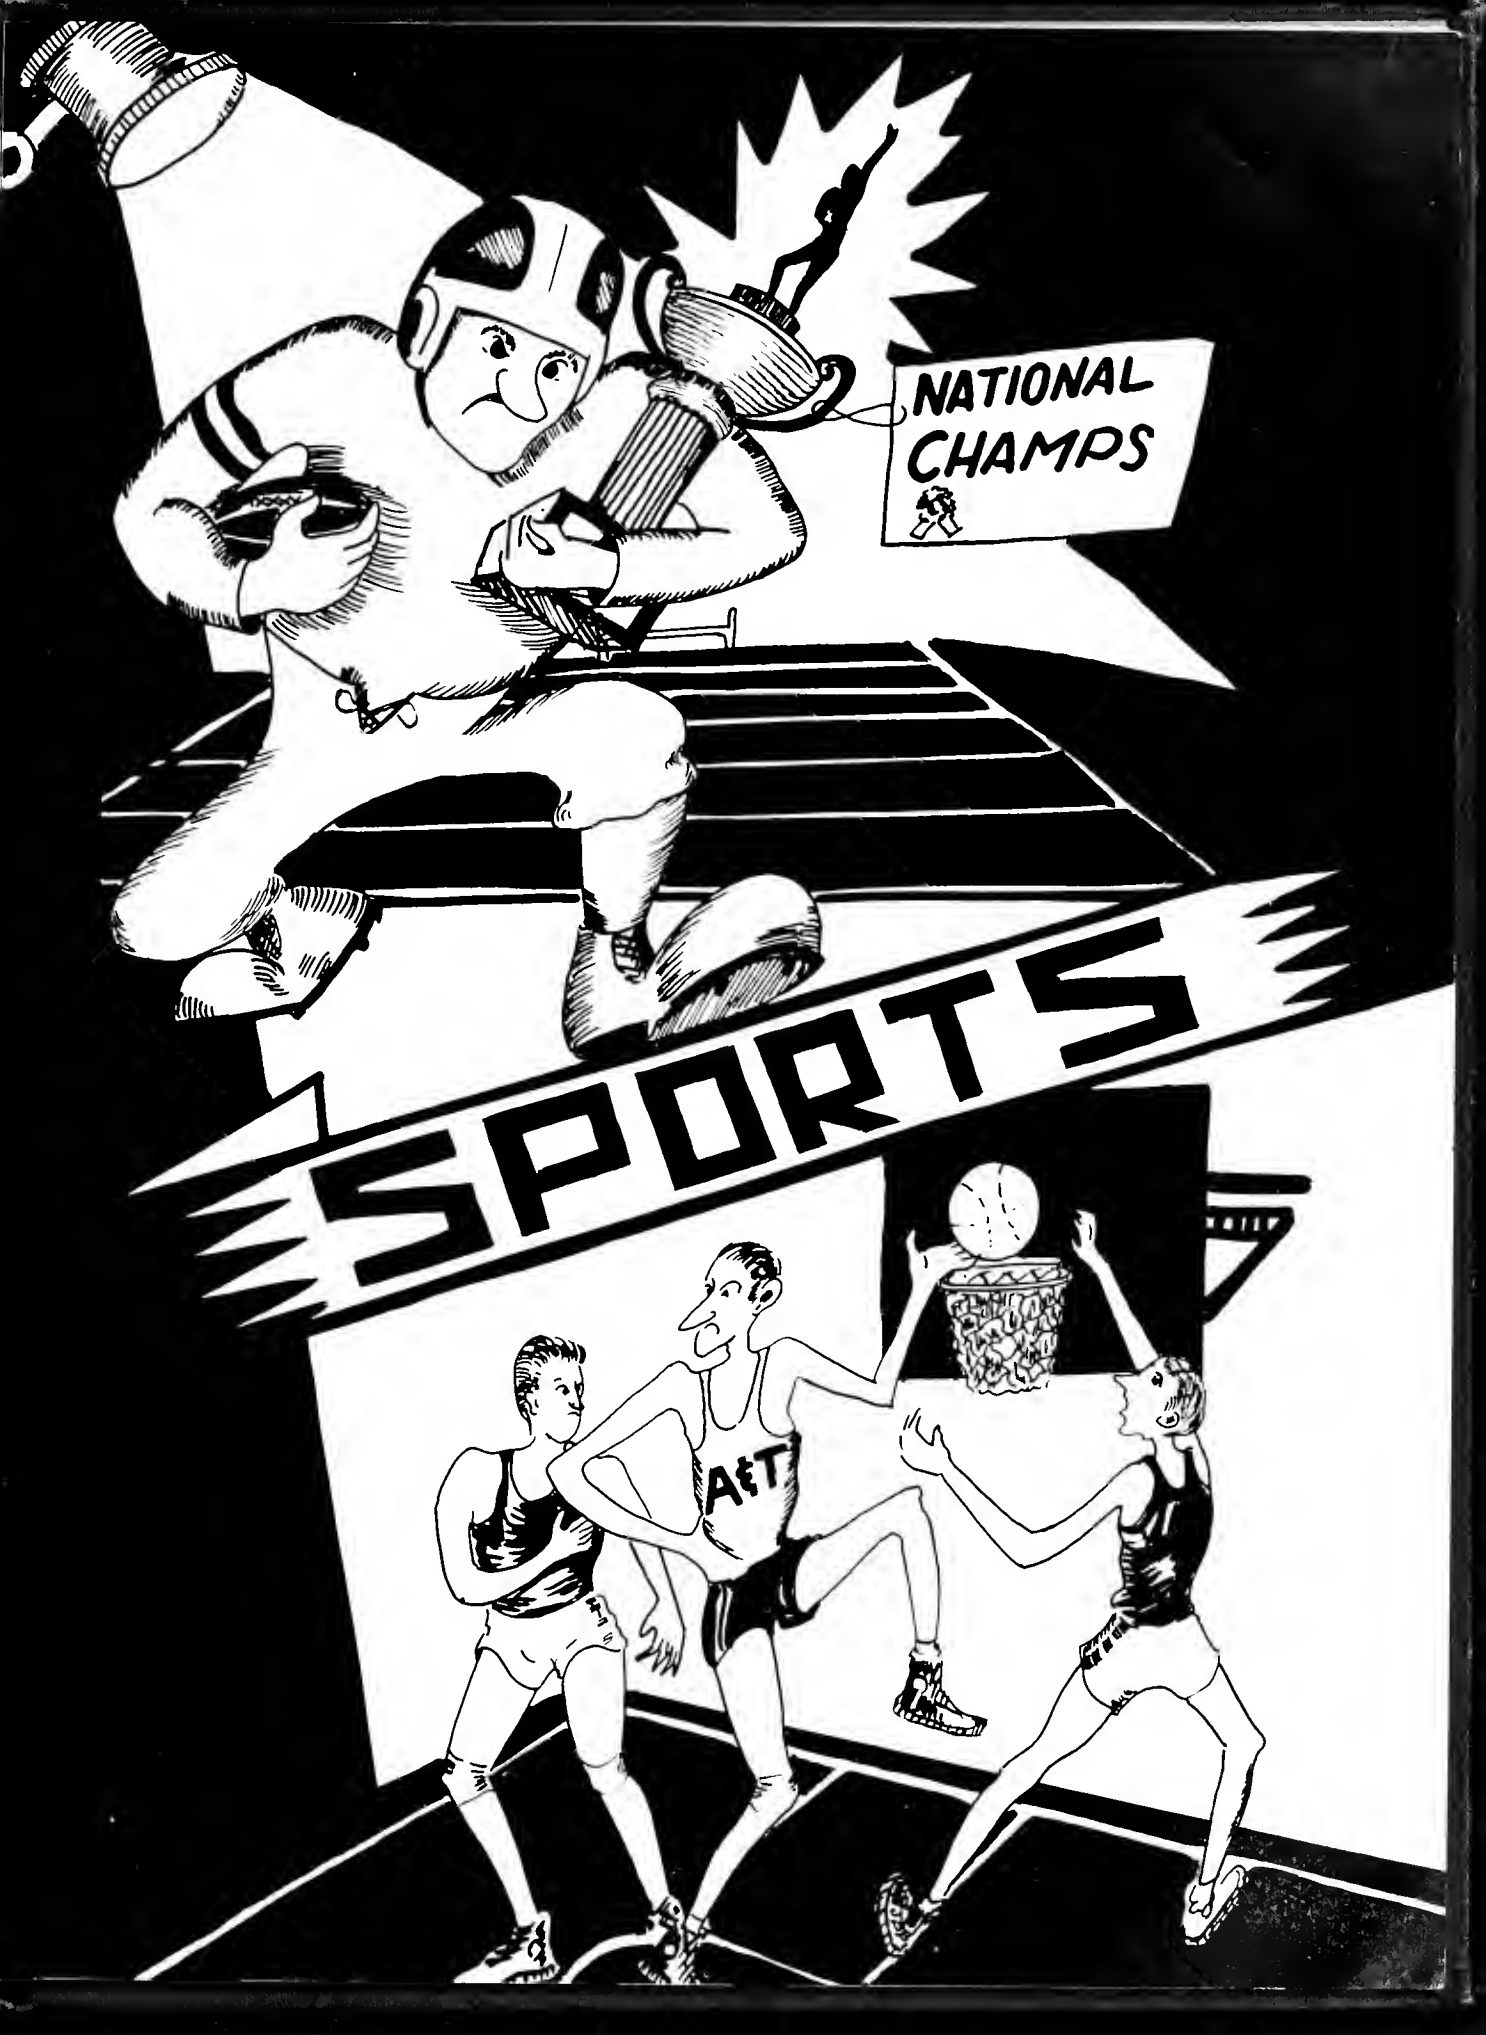

For four thrilling quarters, a bruising battle ensued and when the final whistle blew the score stood, the A. and T. College Aggies 7, the Florida A. and M. College Rattlers 7.

These two teams, meeting for the third time in as many years, were coached by two renowned grid mentors: William "Big Bill" Bell and Jake Gaither. The series score reads: The A. and T. Aggies one, the Florida A. and M. Rattlers one, and one tie.

The indestructible force had met the immovable object; two conference champions had clashed and proved to be an equal match for each other.

FOOTBALL

"Aggies" . . . "Bulldogs" . . . "Champs"

These words will long be remembered in the hearts and minds of three thousand loyal aggies, not including alumni, well-wishers and friends. They were echoed loud and strong at the Agricultural and Technical College, in Greensboro, North Carolina, and throughout, as the sports writers proclaimed the Aggies the 1951 Football Champions; although they were denied a C.I.A.A. title by being the victims of an upset at the hands of the Virginia State College Trojans in the Capitol Classics in Washington, D. C.

THE BIG FOUR

HERE, THERE, AND EVERYWHERE

Helburn L. Meadows (No. 33) is off on another of his sprints against N. C. College in the Carolina-Thanksgiving Classic.

Little, but powerful Al Morgan (No. 16), "The Foast of Aggie-Land," moves in for a tackle.

"In Jackson we trusted"—William "Red" Jackson All-American, All-C.I.A.A. quarterback for 1951-52.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL TEAM

The 1952 edition of the A. and T. Aggies Basketball Team started the season with a talent-packed aggregation, under the able coaching of Felix Harris. After a somewhat uncertain start, the Aggies at mid-season pulled a startling upset over their arch rivals, North Carolina College, by a score of 86-85. The deciding point was annexed by David Hurdle in the fading seconds of the contest. Frank Mahon was high scorer for the game with 28 points, followed closely by Lawrence McClenney with 22 points. McClenney is expected to become the mainstay of the basketball team in 1953. This upset, along with subsequent victories, label the Aggies as dark-horse contenders in the C.I.A.A. Championship race.

Adding two points to the Aggies' triumph over North Carolina College Eagles, is forward George Thomas, while his team-mates look on.

TENNIS TEAM

The A. and T. College netmen were runner-up in the C.I.A.A. Tennis tournament which was held at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia. Participants Julius Martin, Asa Anderson, and Vincent Moore. Julius Martin was a semi-finalist in the singles, gaining three (3) points. Asa Anderson was also a rated high in the doubles semi-finals along with Vincent Moore, racking up a gain of three (3) points. The teams totaled six (6) points. The winning teams made a total of eight (8) points.

Under the new coach, Felix Harris, the 1951 Aggie baseball nine showed plenty of power and ability, as they have won the C.I.A.A. Championship for two consecutive years. The most thrilling game and a fitting climax to a successful season featured Earnest Canada, who shut out Howard University, 11-0. Canada concluded the season with a won-lost record of 5-2.

Warming Up For Another Aggie Win

TRACK

As the wind goes, so goes Edward ("Hucklebuck") Carter.

The A. and T. College track team departed for the Alabama relays where they experienced enormous success in the individual events and relays. Even though they placed second to Florida A. and M. College, the following cindermen captured high honors in their respective events: Ernie Nimmons, the running broad jump; Archie Dabney, the high jump; Pete Echols, the pole vault; Delbert Payne, anchor man for the mile relay team; Tony Wicks, the mile run; Edward Carter, the high and low hurdles. The latter recently participated in the Inquirer Meet in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, capturing third place with a time of 6.4 seconds in the 50-yard high hurdles behind the co-holders of the world's record in this event, Harrison Dillard and Meredith Gourdine.

The 1952 AYANTEE and Register Staffs have toiled endlessly to bring to the reader of this Yearbook, a reflective pleasure in scanning the year, 1951-52, at the Agricultural and Technical College.

This production is intended to provide the picture story of all phases of life at the college.

Briefly, let us survey the AYANTEE and Register Staffs individually. The AYANTEE Yearbook Staff was capably advised by Mr. Ellis F. Corbett, whose assistance and guidance were instrumental in the final culmination of this publication. Under the expert guidance of Editor-in-Chief Melvin M. Ritter, the steadying influence of Senior Class Adviser George G. Geiger, and the staunch support of Associate Editor Barney R. Putnam, the Yearbook staff enjoyed the work resulting in its eventual compilation.

The Business Manager of the Yearbook was Jerry Crawford. Literary Editor Leon A. Barnett produced some exceedingly representative work in doing the bulk of the writing contained herein. Assisting in assembling this material were staff members Velma Speight, Stanley M. Cook, James E. Bridgett, David McElveen, Josue Amaro, and Barney R. Putnam.

Art Editor John S. Beatty must be complimented for his efforts in beautifying this publication. In this he was aided by his staff members William T. Hatch and Geneva B. Brown.

Copy Editor, Lannie McArthur and her assistants, Mary Marable and Marteena Broadnax deserve unlimited tribute in preparing the final draft of this publication for the printers. They received no less assistance from the copy staff composed of Laura Brooks, Charles Brooks, and Charles Gay.

Working hand in hand with the Business Manager, Charles Nesbit, rendered invaluable services. Working right at the side of Charles Nesbit was Assistant Publicity Manager, Hanford Stafford.

Concluding the AYANTEE Yearbook Staff, we have a person of no less importance, Photographer Howard L. Ward, whose diversified talents are plainly visible in this publication.

"The Cream of College News" is still the slogan propagated by our college newspaper, the Register. It was just "that" this year in a most admirable way. Under the conscientious guidance of Adviser, Mr. James A. Long and Editor-in-Chief, Arthur B. Word, the paper enjoyed incomparable popularity.

The editorials were one of the most remarkable features of what was generally an exceptiona collegiate newspaper. Several timely editorials concerning public opinion and other student affairs were a distinguishing mark of the paper. Largely responsible for the afore-mentioned features were Ollie Norman, Associate Editor; Hanford Stafford, Managing Editor; and Stanley M. Cook.

The Business Manager of the sheet was Marion Blair, Jr.; who performed magnificently in this capacity, particularly in securing advertisements for the paper.

The large sports section was edited by Sports Editor Richard Moore with the capable assistance of Josue Amaro and James Bridgett.

The person who kept up with happenings of other schools was Exchange Editor Rudolph Gadson. This coverage aided greatly in the final productions of the paper.

The actual collection and preparation of the news was accomplished by Feature Writer Jerry Crawford, and Reporters Shirley Taylor and Charles Gay.

Production Manager Lannie McArthur must be commended for her dependability and efficiency in sending the Register off to press. Ably assisting Miss McArthur were members of the

Finally, the individual responsible for disseminating the Register to all parts of the United States and performing efficiently in this capacity was Circulation Manager Willie L. Ballard.

The staff recognizes the inadequacies of the Annual and yet take pride in the result attained by hard work. The finished product may not seem too impressive now, but we trust that in future years, you may take this Yearbook from the shelf, brush away a decade of dust and use it to recall, vividly, your days at the Agricultural and Technical College. We are quite aware of the inability of cold words and pictures to capture the warmth and feeling that are truly attributes of human experience, but we have made an earnest effort to furnish you with a guide to memories.

So, with humility, born of the immense responsibility which has been ours and with the innate pride that comes with a job well done, we humbly present the product of our efforts for your enjoyment—the 1952 AYANTEE.
